Flint Hopkins finds the perfect tenant to rent the space above his Minneapolis-based law office.

All the tã€™s are crossed and iã€™s dotted on Ellenã€™s application. Her references are good. And sheã€™s easy on the eyes.

Until â€

Flint discovers Ellen Rodgers, Board-Certified Music Therapist, plays music. Bongos, guitars, singingã€”not Beethoven administered through noise-cancelling headphones.

The cut-throat attorney serves up an eviction notice to the bubbly, constantly humming redhead who's too sexy for her own good. But luck is on Ellenã€™s side when Flintã€™s autistic son, Harrison, takes an instant liking to her. A single dad canã€™t compete with guitarsã€”and rats. Yes, she has pet rats.

This woman â€

Sheã€™s annoyingly happy with a constant need to touch himã€”adjust his tie, button his shirt, invade his space, and mess with his mind.

Still â€

She must go.

Their lust-hate relationship escalates into something beautiful and tragic. This sexy, romantic-comedy explores the things we want, the things we need, and the impossible decisions parents and children make to survive.
